Yehuda Feher was a leader of the Shomrim zionist youth movement, and continues to be a leader in Jewish community representative organisations. His collection represents the most significant collection of Australian Zionist Youth magazines known to exist in this country. The collection shows Australian Jewish youth at its activist best at the time when it galvanised the senior Jewish Community into action on behalf of European Jewry. Covers the period of the Sho‘ah and the creation of the State of Israel. Some ephemera from the 1940’s and later.

Titles include: Halapid, Habonim Shomrim Bulletin, The Young Zionist;

A meticulously organised and documented collection of personal material on Germany and Australia. In that Dr Joseph was a doughty fighter for the rights of refugees, the collection is important for the light it throws on Jewish immigration and the struggles of individuals to make their lives in a new country. Contains invaluable correspondence with political figures of the 40s and 50s giving insights into official attitudes to refugees.

Papers: Material relating to the pre-holocaust period in Germany, 1935-1938. Business papers from Berlin. Early years in Australia (1939-44), including documents relating to internment at Tatura. New Citizens' Association - records, minutes and daily correspondence. (The New Citizen) from 1945-54. Personal papers and involvement in the Jewish community, 1942-68. The papers relating to the establishment of the North Shore Temple Emanuel, 1960-66. This material was microfilmed and digitised late in 2003 for the Washington Holocaust Museum.

Maurice Isaacs, a lawyer by profession, was active in the leadership of the Jewish community in the 1940s and 1950s, especially in the Young Men's Hebrew Association and Bnai Brith. His papers represent those interests and include annual reports and papers of the Y.M.H.A. 1929-53, and copies of his own contributions to the Australian Jewish Forum 1941-48.

Shelf List: 4 Source: Sam KARPIN Housing: 9 boxes Period: 1945-1983

The late Sam Karpin (died 2003) has been involved in many organisations, but he is best known for his role in the Y.M.H.A. and as a founder and mainstay of the Wolper Jewish Hospital, Sydney. His papers provide a profile of the Wolper's activities and include material from its inception to the present day.

Wolper Hospital: Treasurer's records from 1950s-1978. Material relating to the founding of the hospital. 2 scrap books of PR material on the hospital. Over 60 photographs.

Shelf List: 5 Source: Max FREILICH Housing: 3 boxes Period: 1926-1974

Some of the personal correspondence and assorted papers of a leading Australian Zionist whose personal friendships with Australian and Diaspora personalities gave him a special role in Australian Zionist history.

Papers: Correspondence with the Jewish Agency, 1962. Presidential reports and minutes of plenary sessions of State Zionist Councils of Victoria and N.S.W., 1956-60. Extracts of references to Australia from Zionist Archives in Jerusalem 1929-46. Ephemera of a personal nature. Record of Jewish organisations in Australia, 1900. Various minutes of Board of Deputies and SZC of NSW, 1974-75.
Book: Zion in our Time, Max Freilich's autobiography, Sydney, 1967.

Shelf List: 6 Source: Edward LANE Housing: 1 folder Period: 1925, 1984

Personal memoirs of Australian Navy, 1925. Mr Lane, who was a professional photographer, took 87 photographs of the Montefiore Home for the Archive, before his death in 1984. See also Photograph Collection.

Shelf List: 7 Source: Maurice LASERSON Housing: 4 boxes Period: 1937-1959

Maurice Laserson was a social worker involved with the resettlement of Jewish refugees. His papers reflect his work with O.R.T. and his connections with Australian Jewish colleagues.
Papers: Personal correspondence 1933-34 on plight of German Jewish refugees: O.R.T. PR material in Australia.

Shelf List: 8 Source: Mark BRAHAM Housing 5 boxes Period: 1904-1987

Mark Braham, author, journalist and businessman, is the author of Jews Don't Hate, a book which describes his role in the controversy which wracked the Jewish community in the 60s and saw the closure of the Australian Jewish Herald. His papers are mostly related to this incident.

Papers: Correspondence relating to: the closure of the Herald; murder of Jacob Israel de Haan, 1924, Lecturer at Government Law School, Jerusalem; Desmond Stewart's biography of Herzl, 1924; Kemnitzer Magid; "Jews Don't Hate". Correspondence with Harold Boas, Julius Stone and Joachim Schneeweiss.

Shelf List: 9 Source: Alec W. SHEPPARD Housing: 1 folder Period: 1940-1986

A small number of newspaper clippings and articles by Alex Sheppard on his activities on behalf of Jewish refugees against anti-semitism and for the State of Israel. Alec Sheppard worked for military intelligence in the Middle East, and for some years was the publisher of Morgan Publications. Card of Rabbi Freedman (army chaplain).

Shelf List: 10 Source: Sir John MONASH Housing: 1 folder Period: 1927-1928

For his outstanding war service, Monash was honoured with the KCB (1918), the GDMG (1919), France’s Legion d’Honneur and Croix de Guerre and the American distinguished Service Medal. In 1939 he was honoured with the full rank of General. Sir John Monash was the honorary president of the Zionist Federation from its establishment in 1927 to his death in 1931. Most of his papers reflecting his Zionist interests cannot be located. The Archive has photocopies of four items preserved in the A.N.U. files.

Shelf List: 11 Source: Arie EVEN Housing: 1 folder Period: 1970s

Arie (& Shula) Even was the Education Shaliah (emissary) of the World Zionist Organisation in the 1970s.

Eva Helfgott is Polish, speaks several languages and taught English and was involved in voluntary social work for many years. In 1981 she was one of the co-founders of the Shalom Organisation, a group set up to help Russian Jewish immigrants integrate into Australia. She taught English until the end of 1984. In 1983 the organisation became affiliated with the Australian Jewish Welfare Society, which is now called “Jewish Care.”

Memorabilia and photos of Sam Helfgott, violinist. Eva Helfgott's husband was a gifted violinist with the Sydney Symphony Orchestra.

Werner Baer was born in Berlin. When Hitler started to make his presence felt in 1933, he was forced to interrupt his university course. Being well-trained in music, he became a functionary in a Berlin synagogue and officially became a public servant for the Prussian State. Interned for four weeks in a camp near Berlin, he succeeded in leaving by ship, and was chosen as a music professor in Singapore, where he and his wife lived. On coming to Australia, he was interned at Tatura. After the war he joined the A.B.C. broadcasting commission, and became a well known music critic, composer, reviewer, and teacher. He was associated with the Australian Opera, and director of the Sydney Jewish Choral Society. On 10th May 1992, Ida Ferson (herself a Holocaust survivor) recorded for 2 MBS-FM radio a programme of music entitled "Werner Baer. Remembered," which featured Baer in performance. A copy of the tape is kept in the Archive. See Tape Collections

Shelf List: 26 Source: Prof Julius STONE Housing: 2 boxes Period: 1944-1983

Professor Stone, an internationally renowned jurist, legal philosopher and champion of human rights, was in the forefront of those speaking out for Zionism and Israel for more than forty years. His widow, Reca Stone, herself a trained dentist, typed the manuscripts of his books. She died in 2005. Included in this collection is a copy of Stone's "Stand up and be Counted", his much-publicised debate on the establishment of a Jewish State in Palestine with the Australian Governor-General, Sir Isaac Isaacs, who represented the opinion that to establish a Jewish State was to be disloyal to the British. Consequent developments were to vindicate Professor Stone.

- Papers: Palestinian resolution; zenith or nadir of the General Assembly. The controversy with Sir Isaac Isaacs from Hebrew Standard clippings over several years and correspondence and papers.
- Publications: Over 25 articles on Israel and the Middle East are included in this collection, which was partially established with the help of Stone's former secretary, Zina Sachs.

From 12/6/1950 - 5/9/1952, Joseph Linton was the Israeli plenipotentiary to Australia. His diary which describes the period just following the establishment of the State of Israel, and some photos, are preserved in the Archive. His successor was given the title of Ambassador. The current Israeli Ambassador resides in Canberra.

Rabbi Porush (OBE), became rabbi of the Great Synagogue in Sydney 1942. He was born in Jerusalem, in 1907, of a family which stemmed originally from Lithuania, and can trace its family tree back to the sixteenth century. His thesis on higher algebra gained him a doctorate from Marburg University, Germany. He served as a minister at Finchley London between 1934-1940, during which time he married Bertha Link, a member of a family of rabbis. On migrating to Australia, he took over the pulpit of the Great Synagogue, Sydney from Rabbi E.M. Levy, who went to a Canadian congregation. Rabbi Levy's predecessor was Rabbi Francis L. Cohen, a controversial figure, but once described as "the most intelligent Jew in the colony," who was minister for more than thirty years.

In 1942, when antisemitism was rife in Europe at the height of the World War II, Europe Rabbi Porush was instrumental in founding Sydney's Council of Christians and Jews which remained active in the 1940's. In 1948, he became president of the Australian Jewish Historical Society, and continued as rabbi of the Great synagogue till 1972, with the arrival of Rabbi Raymond Apple, who is still its first minister. II ORGANISATIONAL ARCHIVES

Association of Jewish Refugees 6/9/43-24/9/45

Founded to succeed the Association of Jewish Refugees when the War ended.
The Australasian Union of Jewish Students 1971-1992

A "Union of Jewish Students" was founded at Sydney University in 1948, its first President being Joachim Schneeweiss. AUJS now acts as the roof body for twenty three campus societies in Australia and New Zealand. Its activities provide political, educational, social and religious programs for its members.

Australian Association of Jewish Studies 1988+

Founded in 1988 by Dr Bill Rubinstein, Dr Evan Zuesse, Dr Suzanne Rutland and others as an academic association of Jewish studies in Australia. Though not large, the association holds annual conferences and papers from these conferences are published in the Australian Journal of Jewish Studies. All articles are refereed and indexed in RAMBI.

Correspondence, archives of the association, newspaper cuttings, back journals of the Association and newsletters.

Australian Friends of the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra 1936-1983 1 box

Founded in 1936 as the Palestine Orchestra with Arturo Toscanini as its first conductor. The first Australian tour was in 1962.

Correspondence, newspaper cuttings, concert programmes.
With Benzion Patkin Collection.

Australian Institute for Holocaust Studies 1981-1988 1 folder

Founded in 1987, after an international Holocaust conference in 1985, to promote teaching and research, develop educational resources, and document the Holocaust. It was responsible for conducting the Twelfth Hour Project, the interviewing and recording of over 120 Holocaust testimonies from 1988-1992. Since its establishment, a Jewish Museum has been set up in Sydney and numerous projects initiated. It has now merged with the Australian Association of Jewish Holocaust Survivors. The papers were donated by Drs Margot and David Cohen.

The Australian Jewish Quarterly Foundation 1963-1973 (The Bridge) 1 folder
Established 1963 under aegis of former Consul for Israel S.Z. Laor. The first function was to publish The Bridge, a quarterly Jewish magazine. The Foundation sponsored numerous publications other than The Bridge, some for special community occasions.

Council of Christians and Jews 1944-1973. 1 box

(ICCJ correspondence+ early correspondence)

The first folder contains correspondence from New South Wales in the 1940s and Melbourne in 1959 and 1960. The letters from Australia are signed by Rabbi R. Brasch, Rabbi H. Sanger, Rabbi Israel Porush, Bishop Venn Pilcher, Evelyn Rothfield, and the Victorian Jewish Board of Deputies.

The second folder details the attempt to establish a Council in Victoria in the 1960s, and the attempt in the early 1970s by Rabbi Apple to set up a Council in Sydney.

The third folder has some early New Zealand correspondence (1946-1967).

The NSW Council in the 1940s lasted a short time. There was an attempt to start a Council in Melbourne in 1960, Archbishop Mannix and Archbishop Frank Woods as well as Isi Leibler, and Rabbis Herman Sanger and Gutnick attending the inaugural meeting, in 1961, but Victoria not succeed in establishing a Council till 1985. New South Wales followed in 1987.

A fourth folder (copies by CCJ Vic Secretary Liz Parker) contains copies of correspondence and early memoranda recovered from the Jesuit Provincial Archives in Melbourne. This includes letters from Rev Noel Heir (SJ), Cardinal Gilroy, Rev J. Freeman, and a copy of the United states of America Protest, Catholic and Jewish Joint Declaration on World Peace, 7th October 1943. Also filed with this collection is Annette Achilles' BA Hons Thesis (Latrobe University) 1989. "Jewish-Christian Relations in Melbourne."

New South Wales Board of Jewish Education 11/12/1873-1985
In 1862 the Rev. A.B. Davis was appointed as the Principal of the Sydney Jewish Sabbath School. The N.S.W. Board of Jewish Education was formed by Rabbi Cohen in 1909, from the amalgamation of the Sabbath School and Sydney Jewish Education Boards.

In 1979 the New South Wales Board of Jewish Education published a history to mark its 70th anniversary. See Maurice H. Kellerman, History 1909-1979, with Background Summary 1863-1909. With Microfiche collection.

Ballarat Hebrew Congregation 1861-1954 Folder

Services for the Day of Atonement were first held in Ballarat in 1853, but the first record of a synagogue is a report of the consecration of one on November 12th, 1855, with Rev. David Isaacs as its Minister. The foundation stone of the present Ballarat Synagogue was laid in 1860.

Bankstown Hebrew Congregation 1967-1976
1 Archive Box

The Bankstown Synagogue (founded in 1913) was burnt down through arson in March 1991, but one minute book survived, which dates from 21st July 1967 to 11th February 1976. Although mud stained, the minutes are clearly readable. Initially they were preserved in the Uniting Church Archives, before being passed on to the Archive. As the community was small, the synagogue was not rebuilt.

Brisbane Hebrew Congregation 1861-1946 Microfilm
The community was founded in 1865, and the synagogue built on its present site in Margaret Street, the foundation stone being laid in 1885.
